

Job reference n 091516_LSA_ENG_ASD

Initial Publication September 20th 2016

Job Title Aerospace Logistics Support and Maintenance Engineer

Job Location SW England Crawley Town. LGM is a leading European company of 1000 consultants in supportability engineering for Aerospace and transport systems.

Job description You will perform logistics support analysis on a complex system to guarantee its supportability and the consistency of the maintenance plans.

The opportunity At the hub of many connected engineering activities you will apply your skills in the development and operation of the data, documents and tools enabling the support of the FSTA Voyager Aircraft within the corporations environment of Air Tanker Leaders and Subcontractors.

The role : Analyse the product from a maintenance standpoint, and participate to the development of data used in application of the support strategy of the customer, in its environment, in compliance with its processes and tools;

- Conduct analyses to generate reference data for ICA documents, data sheets, manuals (AMM, CMM,TSM)
- Participate in compilations required for MBRM and or the Maintenance Planning Documents.
- Process operational FRACAS data for maintenance optimization
- Participate in change process
- Travel to customer locations, and integrate in technical meetings and reviews in UK or abroad as necessary to support the customer.

Skills Career in the environment of support and customer service either with aircraft manufacturers or aircraft operators (airlines) as an engineer of a product and customer service department

- Human relational and communication skills to share with members of the engineering and support organisations;
- Engineer degree standard and knowledge and experience on complex systems;
- Familiar with aircraft architecture and components;
- Comfortable with Systems Safety analysis, reliability analysis, inspection techniques;
- Knowledge in JAR 25 series, and in the MSG-3 process;
- Established experience in Logistics Support Analysis and with the relevant Defence Standards (DEF STAN 00-60 &00-40) or ASD (S Series)

Others: You must be able to obtain a SC clearance to work in UK and a NATO Secret level clearance.

Compensation We offer superb learning and development opportunities as well as a salary in full accordance with market practices and the professional environment of our customers.